

SUSTAINABILITY AND THE ROLE OF THE VETERINARY PHARMA INDUSTRY

Gerard Ensink, Head of Animal Health
Boehringer Ingelheim Animal Health UK & Ireland

10 March 2022

OUR STORY

Started in 1885 and one that we hope, and believe, will never end. At Boehringer Ingelheim, “Sustainable Development – For Generations” is about a journey. It is about thinking long term, considering the bigger picture.

Gerard Ensink, | BVPA Meeting | 10.03.2022

OUR FRAMEWORK

3 PILLARS

6 IMPACT AREAS

OUR 2030 COMMITMENTS

CONTRIBUTION TO UN SDGs

MORE HEALTH

Good Health for People and Animals

- Access to healthcare
- Address unmet needs in non-communicable diseases
- Contribute to food security & safety
- Combat infectious diseases in human and animal health

Expand access to healthcare for 50 million people in vulnerable communities

Invest EUR 35 billion in health innovation to tackle non-communicable diseases

Invest EUR 250 million in partnerships to combat emerging infectious diseases

MORE POTENTIAL

Good Health for Communities and Our People

- Co-create healthy, inclusive and sustainable communities

Impact 50 million people in vulnerable communities by empowering our employees, partners and social entrepreneurs

Continuously intensify efforts in the areas of human rights, ethics, good labour and diversity & inclusion

MORE GREEN

Good Health for the Planet

- Care for our environment

Protect clean water and further reduce the water footprint in all communities we operate in

Become carbon neutral in our company operations and halve the natural resources footprint across the value chain

More Health

HOW DO WE CONTRIBUTE TO FOOD SECURITY AND SAFETY ?

More Health

HOW WE COMBAT INFECTIOUS DISEASES IN HUMAN AND ANIMAL HEALTH?

